A Double Cheeseburger has successfully reached the summit of Pen-y-Fan, the highest peak in South Wales. The Cheeseburger was carried up by Sir Edmund Mogary supervised under strict medical conditions by personal trainer Dr Sherpa Porter. Porter Sherpa had only intended to go for a regular cheeseburger for the summit challenge but when Sir Mogary saw the cut of a double at the base camp burger van — he just went for it downing it two halves. Dr Sherpa accidentally ran ahead of Sir Hillary at a few stages of the climb as he was wearing the “wrong” climbing boots [with apologies to Wallace and Gromit’s—The Wrong trousers]
