G4S WEDDING BL-USHER

There were red faces all around as G4S made a church bell clanger on a London Olympic 2012 scale at a Bath wedding. Out of the 300 Ushers promised by the security firm only 2 turned up and when they did Usher A or Mogi spent all his time eating the peanuts and Usher B or Al placed himself in charge of the Belgian sherry bottle. Fortunately the ceremony went like a dream but there were two knock-on effects — a really bad newspaper pun and appallingly bad Photoshop work with a Belgian Sherry bottle.
